Dear Traveler,

Welcome to the Pacific Northwest's fastest, most scenic, first-class mode of travel from Seattle to the picturesque destinations of Victoria, BC, Vancouver Island, BC, the San Juan Islands, and connections throughout the Northwest and Canadian Rockies.

This is a land of towering trees and snow-capped mountains, a region on the edge of the sea, whose first inhabitants long ago learned the nuances of the area's waterways. This is also a land anchored by major cosmopolitan cities—Seattle and Vancouver, BC—and quaint destinations such as Victoria, which beckons to another era and another world.

We will show you these wonders with a one day excursion aboard the Victoria Clipper, or a 10-day train/boat tour including the Canadian Rockies. Whether it's Afternoon Tea elegance or low-tide beachcombing you desire, we can take you there. That's the beauty of traveling with Victoria Clipper. We'd be delighted to welcome you aboard.

Mt. Rainier Tour

Up close to a Northwest icon

Mount Rainier is the defining feature of the Northwest landscape, commanding the region's geography and imagination. Jetting a magnificent 14,410 feet above sea level, it is locked in an impressive 35 square miles of snow and ice, surrounded by old growth forest and stunning wildflower meadows. Mount Rainier has been the training ground for some of the world's greatest climbers, including Jim Whittaker, the first American to summit Mt. Everest.

Recently, Mount Rainier National Park celebrated its centennial, and there's no wonder why 100 years ago it became the fifth national park in the United States. From Sunrise to Paradise, from massive Emmons Glacier to the 92.2-mile Wonderland Trail, which encircles the mountain, Mount Rainier is an essential part of any Northwest excursion.

Visit this peak attraction on a 10-hour trip via deluxe motorcoach. The mountain may come to you in glimpses throughout the region, but this excursion will bring you up close to the mountain in comfort and ease. It is a truly picturesque and awe-inspiring experience.

Available Seasonally $59.

Once a mountain range, now an archipelago, the 100-million-year-old San Juan Islands feature some of the most spectacular scenery in the Northwest. Depending on the tides, the San Juans number anywhere from 428 to 743 islands. Only 172 islands have received names, including the four largest: Orcas, San Juan, Shaw and Lopez. World-renowned for both the resident pods of orca whales and migratory pods that feed in the area, the San Juan Islands also teem with other wildlife and sealife. Bald eagles, the playful Dall's Porpoise, blacktail deer, seals and otters are just some of creatures you might spot during your trip. Add to these, wonderful tidepools full of starfish and sea anemones, windswept madrona trees clutching hillsides, and terrific inns and resorts, and it's easy to see why the islands are such a popular retreat for residents of the Northwest.
